EVENING WALK

We will walk up the Hasenbergsteige and enjoy a beautiful view overlooking Stuttgart-West. Our walk continues along the "Blauer Weg" with a great view of Heslach. Manuel will take us along some hidden paths as we descend to Old-Heslach. We plan to stop and visit a restaurant at Bihlplatz. Those coming from Heslach can also wait directly above the Schwabtunnel at the Hasenbergsteige where we will arrive about 18:40 h. For more information please contact our guide and hike master Manuel. (Mobile 0175-5571560)

SCHWEIN MUSEUM Stuttgart

Stuttgart has the largest Swine (pig) Museum in the world. There are 37,000 exhibits (sculptures, prints, paintings and documents from all over the world) located in 28 rooms with various themes on pigs - from piggy banks to luck charms. The Pig Museum is housed in the old abattoir (slaughterhouse). The museum starts with Zoology, then takes a look at the place of pigs in art, crafts, culture and culminates in mythology. This is a joint program with the MetClub Stuttgart. After our visit to the museum we will retreat to the beergarden for some pork, beer or just something to drink. The cost to enter the museum for SCC members will be subsidized by the club.

Sweetness and BloodHow Surfing Spread from Hawaii and California to the rest of the World, with some unexpected Results

In his most remarkable folk history of surfing, Michael Scott Moore follows America's most influential sport as it goes global. How did an obscure tribal tradition from pre-colonial Hawaii (nearly eliminated by Christian missionaries) jump oceans to California and Australia? How did it become a world sport, and how does it clash with cultures in corners of the earth where the surf might be excellent but the society is highly traditional or superstitious about the sea? Moore writes about his visits to a number of surf destinations - Israel, the Gaza Strip, West Africa, Great Britain, Germany, Indonesia, Japan, Cuba and Morocco. The results are surprising. Come and find out more about Surfing.

This is a DAZ sponsored program. For more information please contact: DAZ, Tel. 0711-22818-0 www.daz.org or Ed Wilson ☎0711-8892252
