SUNDAY June 21 10.30 h Stuttgart Main Station	<ul> <li>INLINE SKATING (AND CYCLING) IN THE BLACK FOREST</li> <li>The car-free Sunday in the Black Forest between Nagold and Lake Erzgrube is an annual event which attracts up to 30 000 people from far and near. The beautiful scenery and many events along the way make it worth to participate.</li> <li>The road is smooth and very good for skating while gently inclining just before the lake. On the return trip we will get a reward for our uphill efforts from Erzgrube to Nagold. The round trip distance is 50km. This means at least medium skating skills and not too lousy skates are required.</li> <li>Actually the event is very recommendable for cyclist as well but as there is no reasonable train connection from Stuttgart to Nagold I can't offer to organize the train transportation. Anyway, people who would like to join on bicycle, they can get in touch with me and I will try to coordinate carpooling.</li> <li>We plan to take the S-Bahn S1 from Stuttgart Hbf to Herrenberg and change there to the bus for Nagold. In Nagold we start our ride. After 13km we pass Altensteig which might be a good place to have a first break. Another 12km later we reach Lake Erzgrube, where we can take a longer break and maybe even a swim (if the sun is cooperative) before we return to Nagold.</li> <li>Meeting place and time: Stuttgart Hbf at 10:30h. Arrival back in Stuttgart Hbf presumably at 19:30h. Ticket costs: Around 7€ per person. Please register if you want to join the trip, as the group tickets have to be arranged. For more information contact Martin Moser, phone: 0711 / 889 5871 or Mobile: 015157345104 or email: martin.moser.public@web.de (or see http://moa-nagoldtal.de).</li> </ul>
